Story of Air Maintenance Man Reveals Part Played in Aviation

By GORDON BATEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG, Aug. 22.—When a well known Canadian pilot pointed to a picture of a biplane in a museum outside of actual flying he was being thinking of T. W. (Tommy) Siers, maintenance superintendent of Canadian Airways Ltd., who has a national reputation of being able to fix anything in airplanes anywhere.

In 1929 Col. C. D. H. MacPine and his party of six, flying in the Arctic Circle, were missing for many days. Siers was dispatched to search for them and the aircraft. The essential skill of the aircraftman and the resourcefulness exemplified by Siers are both factors in a way presented to him by Col. MacPine after that time.

Early freeways compelled the search party to change their landing gear from floats to skis. Baker Lake, 1,000 miles north of Winnipeg, Siers managed the transfer, making some of his under carriage fittings out of the available. Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press. ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 22.—Emperor Haile Selassie has warned the world his imminent struggle with Italy may touch off a conflict that will threaten "the very existence of humanity itself."

As Haile Selassie's words are predicted in the solemn tones of a medieval prophet, the only world conflict leads to a world struggle between the white and black races, the very existence of humanity itself will be threatened. We will be back in 1942, there will be no more security for the world than there is today. International treaties will have no more validity than the word of a thief. A LEADER WHO LEADS

Now that the speech-making has ended and the cheering not yet begun, in the relatively calm atmosphere of election day, there is at least one point on which all party leaders and observers may agree. It is that Mr. R. H.
St. Laurent, leader of the Liberal party, is a leader who leads.

Long before the campaign got under way he arranged conference after conference with leaders in all sections of the country. He explained the conditions and difficulties of the time and the possible remedies for the all too prevalent hardships and hardships.

He came back from these conferences with a program that was constructive in every category, comprehensive in the whole field of provincial responsibility, and proposing in relation to every problem practical and feasible.

He dealt with the cause rather than the effect. That was an initial advantage such as no other leader gave his party.

Since the campaign opened Mr. Hovson has been literally "all over the map," speaking two or three times a day, broadcasting, giving interviews, and attending to the thousands of requests of party administration which fall to the lot of every leader.

Only a man with a cast-iron constitution could have gone through this kind of a week.
And only a man fired with enthusiasm for his cause would do it. "Mitch" Hovson and Mr. St. Laurent are the two men who are public life in Canada who match him in sheer energy.
There will be no lack of driving power in a Government headed by Mr. Hovson.

Win, lose or draw, he will make a gallant fight, and the party is proud of him, as it has a right to be.

THE BACKGROUND

When they go to the polls today the electors of Alberta will be engaged in electing members of their eighth legislature.

The sixth legislature was dissolved on May 10, 1930, and the seventh legislature elected on June 19th of that year. At the time of dissolution the standing of the parties was: U.F.A., 4; Liberals, 7; Labor, 2; Conservatives, 4.

After the election the party standing was U.F.A., 3; Liberals, 11; Conservatives, 6; Labor, 4; Independent, 3.

The seventh legislature opened on July 11th, last, having lived to the full term permitted by law. The standing of the parties at that time was: U.F.A., 3; Liberals, 11; Conservatives, 6; Independent, 4; Labor, 2.

The votes polled in 1930 were as follows:
U.F.A., 7,167; Liberals, 6,275; Independent, 2,794;
Conservative, 2,440; Labor, 1,440; and 1,421.
This is the first occasion on which an election resulted from a legislature having lived to its full legal term. All except the last legislature were dissolved before their term had completely expired. On only one other occasion did a legislature go beyond its fourth year, the U.F.A. Government retained in 1921, its having carried on until 1926, but dissolving the assembly before the time limit had been reached.

The dates of the previous general provincial elections were: Nov. 6th, 1910; May 22nd, 1909; April 17th, 1913; July 17th, 1917; July 18th, 1921;
June 26th, 1926; June 19th, 1930.

Hon. R. G. Beirne has presented a year ago on the retirement of Mr. Brownlee and Mr. Mc-Pherson, the cabinet being organized to take in June, J. Russell, Hon. H. H. Allen and Hon. J. MacLellan. Hon. F. S. MacLellan having been taken in some months before.

The U.F.A. party has been continuously in power since 1921.

THE JASPER HIGHWAY

The contracts have been let for graveling the dirt sections of the Jasper highway, work is proceeding and it is due to be finished by October.

The question therefore arises again if and when the province is to secure a lease on the section of the old railway grade which are now used as part of the road. Altogether about seventy miles of the grade are being used, in three sections. While the graveling will be it is too narrow for road traffic, and although too narrow to accommodate the traffic that will develop next summer as the result of the graveling of the highway throughout.

The province has no proprietary rights in the grade and cannot undertake to widen it and bring it up to standard highway condition unless a long term lease be secured from the National Railways. Sir Henry Thornton long ago promised that the lease would be given, but it has not been given, for whatever reasons.

The Provincial Government renewed the application for the lease a week or so ago. It would be strictly in order for the province to be desired, that boards of trade and town councils from Edmonton to Jasper should communicate with the railway authorities, and the Dominion Government if necessary, backing up this application. Boards and councils in other parts of central and northern Alberta might appropriate land similar to that at Jasper Park is the closest and logical mountain playground for people in all this section of the province. The Alberta Motor Association has already taken this action.

Now that Jasper is at long last to be made reachable by motor road, there should be no let up until the highway is brought to full regulation width and condition, as good as the highway that is being constructed from Calgary to Banff.

The next step toward that objective is to secure for the province the necessary lease on the abandoned railway grade. Until that is secured, the whole project of standardizing the highway is blocked. Every possible influence that can be brought to bear to this end should be exerted, and the pressure kept up until the grade is turned over—or until valid reasons are shown why it cannot be turned over.

More About Repressed Emotions

By DOCTOR FRANK MCCOY

In yesterday's article I explained something about the way in which repression occurs. You must take into account the fact that civilization tries to make you into an entirely different being through repression of natural instincts.

We have, along with those instincts which might be called "natural," the instinct for self-preservation; the instinct for sex; the instinct for power; and another, and another, and another, and another, the instinct to power, the desire for power, or the instinct to be great.

Emotions which we repress during the day, frequently find expression through the activity of the unconscious mind during sleep, and we term this activity a dream. The interpretation of dreams, as explained by Freud, has revolutionized the entire subject of psycho-therapy, or at least put an entirely different aspect upon it. The basis for the belief in psycho-analysis, as introduced by Freud, is founded upon the theory that dreams can be taken as revealing the working of the unconscious mind, which is the biggest part of your mind. The mind that works during sleep and also during the daytime, that is constantly working, is the unconscious mind.
In our dreams we use symbols which disguise
the true meaning.

If you dream of a body of water, a fish
swimming in the water, the moon or the stars—
all of these have symbolic meanings. An experienced psycho-analyst, who understands the entire background of your life, could tell you
the meaning of any dream which you dream
over and over. Any dream which constantly reappears in your mind is a warning that it develops because of a certain repression in your
unconscious mind which causes you to dwell
upon that particular subject.

Sometimes, the repression is related to a repression of the first great instinct, the instinct
for self-preservation, or the desire to live, or
the desire for sex. This is the most primitive instinct, and you will find it in any organism able to move which uses its instincts for self-preservation. We see the human body, and so strong is this great natural drive that if a human body is weakened, it will strengthen some other part, to carry the extra load. It is as though every cell in your body cries out for a normal satisfaction of the demands to live. This must be considered the first primitive desire.

The next desire concerns itself with everything related to the affection nature, and principally the affection between the two sexes.
The third instinct, or desire, is the desire to be great. There are many more, but these are the three great principal desires—desire to live, desire to mate, desire to be great.

entire background of your life, could tell you
the meaning of any dream which you dream
over and over. Any dream which constantly reappears in your mind is a warning that it develops because of a certain repression in your
unconscious mind which causes you to dwell
upon that particular subject.

Sometimes, the repression is related to a
repression of the first great instinct, the instinct
for self-preservation, or the desire to live, or
the desire for sex. This is the most primitive instinct, and you will find it in any
organism able to move which uses its instincts for self-preservation. We see the
human body, and so strong is this great natural
drive that if a human body is weakened, it will
strengthen some other part, to carry the extra load. It is as though every cell in your body cries out for a normal satisfaction of
the demands to live. This must be considered the first primitive desire.

The next desire concerns itself with everything related to the affection nature, and principally the affection between the two sexes.
The third instinct, or desire, is the desire to be great. There are many more, but these are the three great principal desires—desire to live, desire to mate, desire to be great.

If you dream of a body of water, a fish
swimming in the water, the moon or the stars—
all of these have symbolic meanings. An experienced psycho-analyst, who understands the
entire background of your life, could tell you
the meaning of any dream which you dream

Ethiopia And The Rise Of The Dutch Republic

By R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.

The members of the League of Nations should present to Signer Mussolini a de luxe copy of Metley's Rise of the Dutch Republic.
This book is the most dramatic work printed in any language; and is the more remarkable because it was written by a very young, but studious of official records, and nevertheless held its dramatic interest as a story of life.

When the Spanish Government sent the Duke of Alva into the Netherlands to wipe out the relatively small number of Hollanders then existing, the Duke's Spanish armies had a number of soldiers engaged in numbers the male population of the Netherlands, and an equipment including every horror of war then known; financial resources without limit; and a power apparently irresistible.

The Hollanders survived all the terrors of the Spanish onslaught during the lifetime of Alva; and, after Alva's departure, survived all the attacks of the Prince of Parma, the ruling soldier of Europe. In the course of the war, illness and misadventure carried death more Spaniards than the Hollanders killed.
There was another proof that the war was not always to the swift or the battle to the strong.

No matter what the apparent result of an invasion of Ethiopia, there is one thing certain —thousands of young Italians will die, and as a result of their deaths Italy will be the final loser.

French Liner Not German, to Carry Models

PARIS, Aug. 22.—Paris dreamers, through their organization, Paris, accepted today to the request of buyers that they ship their New York bound models on the French liner de France rather than the German Bremen, and turned their attention to the equally troublesome problem of waitlines.

the social round . . . .

HERES no reason at all to feeling so sorry about this brief and perfunctory letter from the Edmonton Horticultural Society. That is, not the personal kind of sorry-one keeps for personal sorrows. Of course, it's too bad that "Owing to the weather, the 13th inst. the Executive Committee of this Society decided to cancel the forthcoming flower show." But frost and freezing weather is no man's fault.

You can't argue with the tempo of this mid-summer and the sweet peas have just attained their full-blown, unadorned beauty and the gladioli are only beginning to show the deep colors of their deepest hearts. You can't lift up a hand and push back the red because the flower show can't be postponed until the flowers come out, and now it's too late. You can't stand out in the middle of your crumbling garden and shout to the world at large that Alberta's going to get an awful black eye if enough summer can't be squeezed out of August for an exhibition of blooms. You can't do anything but I haven't seen a single rose still stand in their places, close your eyes very tight and say, Sara Testalote!

"Oh, burn me with your beauty, then. Oh, burn me true and true. Let me be in the end to try to take from me this glowing beauty."

I shouldn't mind about the show being cancelled, really. I haven't much to say about blue forget-me-nots growing in a garden patch. I haven't an onion or a carrot or a pea in the garden. ## Vital Information On How You Mark Your Ballot By Numbers Only

All Edmonton candidates will be listed as shown below, in the order given, on the ballot paper when you vote on Thursday, August 22.

No information is given as to what political party the candidate supports. Nothing but the name, address and calling of the twenty-seven candidates will be on the ballot.

It is important you decide the order in which you are going to mark your ballot before going to the polls to vote.

Do NOT use an X. It will SPOIL YOUR BALLOT. Use figures only—use the pencil in the polling booth—make no other markings—otherwise your ballot WILL NOT be counted!

The manner in which this list is marked with the figures 1 to 27 shows you how one may vote. This marked list gives Mr. Howson first choice and the other five Liberal candidates (large type) in the order they were nominated. Next the Labor candidates are favored, then the Conservatives with all others in the highest figures.

This is only a sample ballot. Each candidate requires sufficient first choices to keep him in the running.

Annual Picnic, Outing Hudson's Bay Company Held At Alberta Beach

More Than 700 Employees and Friends Flock to Lake Resort by Special Excursion Train Wednesday.

Officially decided as far as the score was concerned.

MANY GOOD KIDS
Supplies and refreshments were available in abundance. Each picnicer received a hamper containing sandwiches, fruit, cake, and an egg ice cream; and a multiple assortment of cold and hot drinks.

Following whole-sale company employees, their friends and relatives attended the annual picnic of the Hudson's Bay Co. Beaver Club, held with co-operation of the store management, at Alberta Beach, Wednesday afternoon and evening. The outing had been postponed from the previous Wednesday.

With the department store closing promptly at 12 o'clock noon, employees, their friends and relatives flocked to the C.N.R. depot to board a special excursion train. The dispatch left at 1:45 p.m. with a cargo of passengers and a baggage car crammed full with refreshments.

VARIETY PROGRAM
A varied athletic program, swimming, boating and dancing comprised the list of activities for most of the picnickers at the beach resort. A United Air Transport airplane from Edmonton was on hand to take passengers for flights.

Highlights of the sports program were the pie-eating contest and the tug-of-war battle between married and single men. Small boys and girls entered in the pie-demolishing competition, shown in the early stages of the contest but gave-way in the final analysis to Marjory Luck and Martin Graham, who captured women's and men's prizes respectively. Highly decorative prizes were used for the struggle.

MARRIED MEN WIN
Laying to with much heaving and hosing, a team of married men took two straight wins from single men representatives in the tug-of-war weight contest. Although denied by the hacheliers, a charge was made by the married men that the latter were outnumbered 23 to 17 in man-power in the contest.

Other interesting novelty events were the urgent lighting race, the department managers' wheelchair race, and the mixed baguette and wheelie contest. The latter event was won by Charles who pushed the atmosphere with a swift shuttle in seconds after starting two soda crackers.

A ball game between representatives of the Hudson Bay Co. and the C. Woodward Co. was not

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Aug. 23.—Speaking at a mass meeting here last night Hon. R. H. DEFLATION OF VALUES

"Canada's economic trouble has been made today a much larger and more serious one by the deflation of values."

definition of values, or a destruction of purchasing power. The loss was due to insufficient currency and accumulation of credit. In 1954, seven quarter figures were published. There had been a very great loss of value, and the amount of currency in circulation during the past 15 years.

"Workers are the best consumers. Consumers must have value for their labor, otherwise you destroy purchasing power," the Brazilianist party leader asserted. He reiterated credit of credit, a few large financial corporations, such as the banking Canada. "We must have a Canada's economic policy, but not in the country would still into a country and directing credit." Otherwise the country would still into a country of economic subservience with control exercised by a few firms.

CANCER CURE IS REPORTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—The apparent cure of a few "leider" cases by the administration of lead phosphate to a degree producing lead intoxication was reported to the American Chemical Society Wednesday.

Dr. A. E. Osterberg, Dr. J. A. Barger and Dr. B. T. Herion of the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., said that the treatment was successful.

The procedure involved administering a quantity of lead phosphate during a period of approximately 10 days in amounts sufficient to produce acute lead poisoning. This was on the theory that a heavier concentration of the lead occurs in the malignant cells of a tumor than the normal murmur, and many times results in necrosis or sloughing away of the tumor. The normal tissue is able, the reporting physicians said, to recover completely from the concentration of lead.

The lead poisoning can be controlled by calcium treatments.

SOCIAL CREDIT SCORES VICTORY

Election Returns Show Aberhart Party in Control

By 7:30 this evening it was evident that Social Credit would sweep Alberta.

The victory was decisive. In the majority of constituencies Social Credit candidates had big majorities over all.

Only the Liberal candidates of the other parties made any showing and they were lagging well behind.

Every cabinet minister was trailing and it looked as if Premier Reid and his entire cabinet would be down to defeat in the landslide.

The issue was never in doubt. From the first Aberhart candidates piled up big majorities and each succeeding poll added to the total.

In the majority of seats it was evident that the Social Credit candidates would be elected on the first count, their first choice majorities being over the total vote cast for all other candidates combined.

BRITISH BANK STALLS CREDIT AGAINST ITALY

LONDON, Aug. 22.—One of the "big five" British banks, declared the financial editor of the News-Chronicle today, has recalled the whole of its Italian credits.

"At credits which, are now utilized, mature, they will not be renewed and will have to be prepaid by the Italian banks or commercial firms to which they were granted, it is probable this lead will be followed by all other big British banks," it added.

"The decision is a normal precautionary measure taken in view of the serious deterioration in the Italian exchange position."

ITALY PAPER WARNS BRITAIN

ROME, Aug. 22.—The authoritative Giornale d'Italia in a front-page article, obviously directed at Britain, where the cabinet was in session, today warned that sanctions against Italy would be taken if the Italian government did not stop its "treasonable" policy.

This accusation of treason was made against Italy, which was accused of having sent Italian troops to fight in the Spanish civil war.

3 CARS CRASH ON SCONA HILL

A three-way accident at the top of Scona hill shortly after noon on Thursday overturned two cars, but all occupants escaped without injury.

Sam Niven driving south, turned off to pass a car and collided with a machine coming up the hill driven by Richard Ross and towing a second auto steered by August Nive.

Nive's car overturned. Nive's machine jumped the curb, leaped over the street railway tracks and plunged into the Mill Creek ravine. His drop was halted by a clump of bushes and the car kept to its wheels.

TWO KILLED IN LOTTERY ROW

NEWARK, N.J., Aug. 22.—A gun fight broke out in the reputed headquarters of a Newark lottery gang today and two men were killed and three critically wounded. Police broadcast an alarm for three men heavily armed, travelling in a car with stolen license plates.

The dead men were identified as Vincent Tricia, 43, and Frank Long, 40, addresses unknown.

Humors Of The Fray

"My, but it's not in this dump," murmured one voter to the lady accompanying as he wiped his streaming brow in a crowded polling station.

"Here, you can't tell that woman how to vote," interjected a Social Credit worker.

"Who's asking who how to vote?" asked the disgusted elector. "I'm just telling my wife how to tell this lousy dump of yours to go to the S.C. scrutineer's subsidized."

At a Forest Heights booth both the Premier Returning Officer and his poll clerk were wearing Social Credit buttons. They were reported in R. H. Crawford, Returning Officer, as the wearing of insignia by poll officials is taboo under the Election Act.

"Get 'em off or get out of the poll," was Mr. Crawford's dictum and the buttons came off.

Crowded deep down under a West End poll station awning in the sun and sweat. They were told the government of the day was responsible for the inadequate arrangements.

"Just like that Kilmurray," said an ironic woman elector, "if he thinks he's going to keep me from voting he's mistaken. I'll stay here all day if I have to."

Interest in the election was keen. In one poll a woman voter arrived on a wheel chair after she had called neighbors to get her to the poll.

"My husband would take me in my own car," she said. "He's gone crazy on this Social Credit."

VOTES TODAY FOR 8th LEGISLATURE

There have been seven general elections since the province of Alberta was formed in 1905 and today's balloting was for the eighth legislature.

The last general election was on June 19, 1930 when the U.F.A. went into the battle with 43 sitting members, the Liberals with 7, Labor with 6 and Conservatives 4. The government lost some seats in that election, the standing after the votes were counted being U.F.A. 39, Liberals 13, Conservatives 6, Labor 4 and Independents 3.

In the interim further defections from the government ranks occurred when two members crossed the floor to the Liberal opposition, and when the legislature which has just passed out of existence was dissolved the standing of the parties was U.F.A. 36, Liberals 13, Conservatives 6, Independent 4, and Labor 3, with one Labor seat vacant caused by the death of C. Lionel Gibbs, an Edmonton member.

In the 1930 elections the votes polled were U.F.A. 74,187; Liberal 46,275; Independent 27,954; Conservative 25,449 and Labor 14,354, a total of 188,219 so that the government holding office was, as its critics often declared, a minority government whose hold on office was sustained by keeping its opposition split up.

It was in order to keep this split opposition that opponents of the government charged the different forms of voting for urban and rural municipalities was brought in by the U.F.A. which took over from the Liberals in 1921 after the latter party had been in power from the inception of the province in 1905.

Leader

and when I said I'd kill his vote anyway he drove off and left me, here I am anyway."

At another poll a stalwart Liberal of the Old Guard was helped from a car and assisted into the poll. He has been sick for months but the old fire burned hot.

"I said I'd vote for Henson and here I am, even if I had to disobey my wife and the doctor," he smiled grimly. "That's one time I fooled 'em."

"Send a car to Jasper for about forty of us. They've disfranchised us here but they say we can vote in Edmonton," was one SOB received at Liberal headquarters from a party of Edmonton men in a relief camp on the Jasper-Banff highway.
